Crisp-DM Framework:

1. Problem Description (Business Understanding) [10] Describe the Problem: What is COVID-19, and what is social distancing and flattening the curve? Why is it important to look at data about the virus spread, hospitalizations, and available resources? [3 points]

COVID-19 is a highly contagious respiratory illness caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus, first identified in late 2019. Social distancing involves reducing physical interactions to slow the virus's spread, aiming to "flatten the curve"—i.e., reduce the peak number of cases to avoid overwhelming healthcare systems. Analyzing data on virus spread, hospitalizations, and resources is critical to understand transmission patterns, predict healthcare demands, and develop effective interventions (e.g., vaccines or supplies by Johnson & Johnson).

Choose a stakeholder for whom you analyze and, later on, model the data. Define some questions that are important for this stakeholder. What decisions can your stakeholders make, and how would they affect COVID-19 outcomes? Brainstorm this a lot since this choice will guide your exploration of this and all the following projects. Make sure you can produce actionable recommendations for these questions using your data later in your report. [7 point]

Johnson & Johnson (J&J), a medical company focused on pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and consumer health products.

Questions for J&J:

TODO - – update these to be 10 questions that concern the 10 important variables on lines 95 - 116

1. How does population density affect COVID-19 transmission rates across U.S. counties?
2. What is the relationship between social distancing compliance (mobility changes) and case growth?
3. How do hospital resources (e.g., beds per capita) correlate with mortality rates?
4. Which counties showed delayed social distancing responses, and how did this impact case surges?
5. What demographic or geographic factors predict higher demand for medical supplies or vaccines?

Johnson and Johnson can make the following decisions:

- Prioritize vaccine or medical supply distribution to high-risk, densely populated areas.
- Partner with counties lacking resources to provide equipment or therapeutics.
- Adjust production timelines based on predicted surges linked to mobility patterns.

2. Data Understanding [45]

Must include all three provided datasets in your analysis!

Describe what data is available. Choose 5-10 important variables for the questions you have identified in the section above. Describe the type of data (scale, values, etc.) of the most critical variables in the data. [9 point]

Data Available:

1. Global_Mobility_Report.csv: [insert info]
2. COVID-19 Case Data (hypothetical): [insert info]
3. County Resources Data (hypothetical): [insert info]

Questions to answer: – update these to be 10 questions that concern the 10 important variables on lines 95 - 116

1. How does population density affect COVID-19 transmission rates across U.S. counties?
2. What is the relationship between social distancing compliance (mobility changes) and case growth?
3. How do hospital resources (e.g., beds per capita) correlate with mortality rates?
4. Which counties showed delayed social distancing responses, and how did this impact case surges?
5. What demographic or geographic factors predict higher demand for medical supplies or vaccines?

10 important variables (critical *):

1. Median_Income (cases_plus.csv): Explore how income levels correlate with Covid-19 cases or deaths, addressing “How does income affect covid status?”
2. Race_Population (cases_plus.csv): Does race affect covid status? Are there racial disparities in the data?
3. County_Name (texas_cases.csv) or County, State (cases_plus.csv): Compare urban vs rural counties & their impact on covid-19 status. City vs country
4. Public_Transportation_Users (cases_plus.csv): Does higher public transit use correlates with higher case rates?
5. Parents_in_labor_force (cases_plus.csv): Does parental labor force participation influences transmission rates?
- 6. confirmed_cases (texas_cases.csv or cases_plus.csv): Primary outcome variable to measure infection rates across other ?s
- 7.Deaths (texas_cases.csv or cases_plus.csv): Critical variable to assess mortality/severity of Covid-19
8. Rent (cases_plus.csv): proxy for housing cost & potential overcrowding, which could affect transmission risk
9. Year_House_Built (cases_plus.csv): The house age could cause poor ventilation which may affect transmission risk?
10. Transit_stations_percent_change_from_baseline (mobility_data.csv, if us data included): Links mobility changes at transit hubs to public transportation use & case rates, if geographically compatible with U.S. counties

Description of critical variables:

The confirmed_cases and Deaths are critical values because they let us answer our other questions about spread and intensity

Verify data quality: Are there missing values? Duplicate Data? Outliers? Are those mistakes? How can these be fixed? Ensure your report states how much data is removed and how much you have left. [9 Points]

1. Check for missing values in mobility_data we can use colSums function to count the missing values in each column of the data

missing_mobility <- colSums(is.na(mobility_data) | mobility_data == "")
print("Missing values in mobility_data:")

[1] "Missing values in mobility_data:"
```

```
print(missing_mobility)
```

We have quite a few missing values in the mobility data, so lets get rid of the rows that contain the missing values. To do this, we can use the na.omit function and then verify by comparing the original mobility data with a cleaned mobility data.

remove rows that have missing data clean_mobility_data <- na.omit(mobility_data)

verify the number of rows before and after removal
print(paste("Original number of rows in mobility_data:", nrow(mobility_data)))

[1] "Original number of rows in mobility_data: 3991405"

print(paste("Number of rows after removing missing values:", nrow(clean_mobility_data)))

[1] "Number of rows after removing missing values: 149886"

check for missing values again to confirm. This shows zero missing values
missing_clean_mobility <- colSums(is.na(clean_mobility_data)) print("Missing values in clean_mobility_data:")

Does clean__mobility__data have any other values that need to be changed?

The mobility percentages are already numeric and normalized. Geographic identifiers are categorical. Date is temporal.

The census_fips_code should be changed to always have five digits. We can fix this with zeros.

Does clean_texas_cases.csv have any other values that need to be changed?

We want to convert the date field from to so that we can do time series analysis, weekly totals, or rolling averages for the date. This would also allow us to merge into a new dataset later.

state should be kept for merging with clean_mobility_data.csv we can aggregate the cases & deaths, standardize them and make them rates, and do outlier detection.

We can aggregate by the county_name

Aggregate confirmed_cases and deaths by county_name, including "statewide unallocated"
texas_cases_aggregated <- texas_cases %>%
  group_by(county_name) %>% summarise(total_confirmed_cases = sum(confirmed_cases, na.rm = TRUE), total_deaths = sum(deaths, na.rm = TRUE)) %>%
  ungroup()

Verify the aggregated data
print("Aggregated confirmed_cases and deaths by county_name (first 5 rows):")

[1] "Aggregated confirmed_cases and deaths by county_name (first 5 rows):"

head(texas_cases_aggregated, 5)

To change the data into rates and look for outliers, we need to do data cleaning in cases_plus because we need its population information.

Grab the standard deviation and averages of the confirmed cases and deaths. We want to filter out everything before march 1st because we only see results after 3/1.

std_and_avg <- texas_cases |>
  filter(date > "2020-03-01") |>
  group_by(county_name) |>

    avg_deaths = round(mean(deaths, na.rm = TRUE), 2), sd_deaths = round(sd(deaths, na.rm = TRUE), 2), avg_confirmed_cases = round(mean(confirmed_cases, na.rm = TRUE), 2), sd_confirmed_cases = round(sd(confirmed_cases, na.rm = TRUE), 2)
  )

write.csv(texas_cases_with_growth_rate, "texas_cases_with_growth_rate.csv", row.names = FALSE)
```

We added two new columns called `cases_growth_rate` and `death_growth_rate`. These columns show the growth rate of the cases and deaths, respectively. The deaths do not show as high a growth rate as the cases. We can make a chart to show this.

chart to show cases growth rate versus deaths growth rate per county library(dplyr)
library(ggplot2) library(tidyr)

Assuming the data is loaded as a data frame called 'texas_cases_with_growth_rate'
If not, uncomment and adjust the following line to read your CSV:
texas_cases_with_growth_rate <- read.csv("path_to_your_file.csv", stringsAsFactors = FALSE)

Convert date to Date class if not already done
texas_cases_with_growth_rate <- texas_cases_with_growth_rate |>
  mutate(date = as.Date(date))

Calculate statewide daily averages and filter out NAs
statewide_avg <- texas_cases_with_growth_rate |>
  group_by(date) |>
  summarize( avg_case_growth = mean(cases_growth_rate, na.rm = TRUE),

Daily Growth Rates of COVID-19 Cases and Deaths in Texas Statewide Average with 95% Confidence Intervals (March 2020 – January 2021)

There are more cases than there are deaths. The growth rates for the cases vary by a significant amount, so we can capture finer changes by making another graph with a log scale. This log scale can show us smaller changes if we pick a small scale like 0.1% to 1000%.

We have 3142 missing values in certain columns. This means that these columns are completely empty because there are 3142 rows in the data. We can completely remove these columns and then prune for columns that only have some missing values like median_rent.

Get the total number of rows in cases_plus

Looking at the geographic identifiers:

The state_fips_code and county_fips_code may be standardized. The state_fips_code must have always have two digits and the county_fips_code must always have five digits. We can fix this with zeros.

number stored as text error on line 9 adding a zero in front & it is moving numbers over clean_cases_plus_final$county_fips_code <- sprintf("%05d", as.numeric(clean_cases_plus_final$county_fips_code)) clean_cases_plus_final$state_fips_code <- sprintf("%02d", as.numeric(clean_cases_plus_final$state_fips_code)) head(clean_cases_plus_final, 20)

Statistics

Give appropriate statistics (range, mode, mean, median, variance, etc.) for the most important variables in these files and describe what they mean or if you find something interesting. [9 points]

Now we can see how deaths relate to retail_and_recreation_percent_change_from_baseline and residential_percent_change_from_baseline

TODO - explore relationship between texas_cases cases and death and the population from clean_cases_plus_final.csv. This can be a rate. Scrub any outliers

We can make the data in texas_cases rates to make it comparable across regions. This is important because counties have different population densities, so in order to make the counties comparable we should adjust for different population sizes. This will avoid raw counts, so our data will be more accurate. We will use the population from clean_cases_plus_final.csv so that we can change the data to rates.

use clean_cases_plus_final.csv population
```

Outlier detection identifies extreme values in cases and deaths that could skew the analysis. Large counties could have extremely high death rates, which would change averages. Outlier could be real cases, or they could be errors in data. We must judge whether to keep them or not.

outlier detection

make a boxplot for each clean dataframe

clean_cases_plus_final

Filter the dataframe to include only Texas (TX)
tx_data = clean_cases_plus_final[clean_cases_plus_final$State == "tx", ]

Create the boxplot for Texas only

Possible correlation analysis with other two .csv's? cor() function

3. Data Preparation [30]

put all counties in a table and aggregate their total cases/deaths and look at the amount of transportation in that column. More transportation means more cases? Less cases? Joining mobility data and census data (cases plus or texas cases) — we must use US counties as the objects

Create a data set with objects as rows and features as columns. Use as objects counties in the US. The data set must be included in your report. Provide a table in your Word document that shows the data (values) for the first 10 rows for all the features you have selected and/or created. Interesting additional features may be, for example: [30 points]

How (densely) populated is the county? TOTOAL POP. What resources does a county have (money, hospital)? MEDIAN_INCOME What is the social distancing response, and how long did it take after the first case? You can come up with more critical questions for your chosen stakeholder.

Cases per 100k in Texas Counties with Top 5% Highlighted

The scatterplot visualizes the cases_per_100k (cases per 100,000 people) for Texas counties, with labels for the top 5% of counties by cases_per_100k.

we can verify that there are about 10 counties labeled to match our threshold. These 10 counties will be our outliers.

There could be multiple issues with this model like outliers and skewed results from raw counts etc. so lets make another regression model and fix some of these issues

Load library
library(dplyr)

Filter, aggregate, and model in one pipeline with normalization model <- clean_cases_plus_final %>% filter(state == "tx") %>%
  group_by(county_name) %>% summarise(confirmed_cases = sum(confirmed_cases, na.rm = TRUE), median_age = first(median_age), median_income = first(median_income), total_pop = first(total_pop)) %>%
  ungroup() %>%
  mutate(cases_per_100k = (confirmed_cases / total_pop) * 100000) %>% # Normalize lm(cases_per_100k ~ median_age + median_income + total_pop, data = .)

Summarize the model
summary(model)
```

Call:
lm(formula = cases_per_100k ~ median_age + median_income + total_pop,
data = .)

4. Data Preparation [15]

Formulate some recommendations for the questions developed in section 1. based on the results in 2. and 3. Make sure your recommendations are based on data and are actionable for the stakeholder (i.e., the stakeholder has the power to execute the recommendations). [15 points]

Does masking help reduce the number of cases and deaths? Does staying home affect the number of cases and deaths? Vaccinations? House age?
